"I think Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies is one of the best, most informative publications I've seen in my 25 years of supply-chain management. There are many publications I receive and throw out because they are not leading edge. GL&SCS is leading edge, on the cusp of what's happening. It provides balance, and it's very well-scripted — a great read!"
— Richard Guy, Director of Supply Chain Management, Leybold Vacuum, Inc. (2002)

"Wow! What an issue...the January edition of GL&SCS came today and I started to scan through it as I often do before packing it into my briefcase to save for my airline flights, and found myself reading the entire magazine from cover to cover. The topics were timely and the interviews were very meaningful. The executives that shared their best practices were obviously 'top of the heap' as they all grabbed and held my interest. I learned a great deal and now have much more to share. Congratulations on a first class edition, it's a keeper. Keep them coming!"*
— Wayne L. Bourne, Vice President, Logistics-Transportation, Best Buy Co. Inc. (2003)

"Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies is an invaluable resource. It provides great, timely information on trends, and it presents ideas and solutions that can actually be applied. I always have Global with me when I travel. It's good reading!"
— Timothy Goodbred, Planning Manager, SCA Tissue, Inc. (2004)

"GL&SCS has spurred many ideas regarding global distribution strategies in terms of site location, operational concepts, systems and software. While reading the magazine, I'll often find myself saying 'now there's a great idea'."
— Bruce Kroeschell, Operations Manager, Black & Decker Corporation (2000)

"Our company, CT Global Inc. is a medium sized corporation. Several months ago, we reviewed the way we were moving goods from our manufacturing location in Shenzhen, China to world markets including North America, Europe and Australasia. We needed to find more efficient, more effective supply-chain solutions to meet and exceed customer expectations.

During the process of talking with various companies about their experiences and relationships with 3PL providers, we heard reference to your publication, Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies. Executive colleagues at several companies we spoke with referred to it as a valuable resource. Their recommendation was well placed.

In the process of completing our market study and deciding to place our 3PL business with UPS-SCS, we felt your magazine gave us independent, balanced and detailed information about the industry. It also provided professionally written articles that were researched thoroughly, containing substantial, relevant information on specific issues.

Our relationship with UPS-SCS continues to grow. With guidance from reading your publication, we feel better informed about what's going on in the industry and where it's headed. Thank you."
— Phil Cox, President, CT Global Inc. (2004)

"We pay close attention to the reports on supply-chain software and third-party logistics providers. Although Hasbro has not utilized third-party logistics providers in the past, we are now evaluating a number of providers based on your articles*. GL&SCS is a very valuable and educational tool for Hasbro. It helps us measure our own success and shows how global technology and services have improved."*

"I think Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies is the best of all the trade and logistics magazines!"
— Steve Ferguson, Supply Chain Mgr., Dow Chemical (2000)

"Of the five or six logistics publications I read each month, I find GL&SCS to be one of the most up-to-date and current. The case studies have been very helpful as well. The magazine is the right size and packed with useful information*. Many of the other logistics magazines are like advertisement encyclopedias with no real meat and potatoes."*
— Dominick Kass, Logistics Manager, Empire Kosher Poultry Inc. (1999)

"I think Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies touches upon the important supply chain subjects of the day and delivers them to the person who hasn't a lot of time. It provides a great opportunity to catch up on what's new and happening in an intelligent and somewhat entertaining style. The supply chain field isn't exactly drama, but GL&SCS does capture your imagination and provides the information."
— Howard Jagoda, Vice President, Supplier Relations, Cardinal Health, Inc. (2004)

"Global Logistics and Supply Chain Strategies is the one information source that I read and refer to each month*. It provides both quick insights and more detailed articles across the supply chain."*
— Jim McKenzie, VP Supply Chain, Enforcer (2003)

"The content and breadth of coverage in GL&SCS provides a helpful and excellent benchmark for us as we plan and manage our global logistics efforts to better support DuPont businesses' supply chains. Both the features and the commentary present a truly global perspective."
— Charles N. Beinkampen, Director of Global Logistics, DuPont (1998)

"Thank you for your excellent publication. I find your executive interviews to be most rewarding and useful*. I hope you'll continue this practice of bringing more of us 'Non Sexy Types' into the limelight."*

— Michael Kusuglos, Global Logistics Manager, Guardian Industries, Corp. (2003)

"I have found Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies to be very helpful in keeping me up to date with what's happening in the industry. Your magazine has great information on the newest technologies such as RFID and since we'll all be implementing many of these innovations in the near future, the information you provide is really great."

— Justin Catalona, Industrial Engineer & Warehousing Analyst, Campbell Soup Company (2004)

"Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies enables me to keep on top of what's going on in the industry, and to stay abreast of new ideas and innovations*. I enjoy reading each issue."*

— Jay Nearnberg, Director, Supply Chain, Toys 'R' Us, Inc. (2003)

"I particularly enjoy reading the articles in Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies, and I use the magazine as a source of information that I move through the chain in our office."

— Suzanne Cory-Edwards, Director, Global Logistics, Blockbuster, Inc. (2004)

*"GL&SCS is a superb publication. I am a senior logistician myself having spent 26 years in the Army Ordnance Corps. With today's incredibly fast pace, short communication lines, global competition, just-in-time requirements and the demands to integrate information systems technology, the challenges of the modern-day logistics manager and logistics specialists in the commercial world are indeed challenging. Keep up the great work."*

"GL&SCS keeps me up-to-date on the logistics industry and what other companies are doing in terms of finding logistics solutions. It provides excellent information on freight carriers and third-party logistics providers and focuses on the programs they have implemented. We pay close attention to the case studies and often find them very applicable to situations encountered here at Recoton."

— Shaun Winters, Vice President of Logistics, Recoton Corporation (1999)

"GL&SCS has provided me with a lot of options in terms of technology…such as transportation and optimization…that I don't find in other magazines. It gives me what's out there and what's happening today."

— Antionette Sims, World Wide Logistics Planner, Eastman Kodak Corporation (2001)

"I don't save many magazines. I save all of yours. There's always something useful in each issue. We're making progress in overall supply-chain strategies, moving away from traditional methods. I share the information in GL&SCS with my friends in Tokyo at our parent company."

— James J. Gordon, Jr., Director/General Manager, Canon, USA (2002)

"Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies is very, very good. I think it provides the best general knowledge updates on all modes of logistics and transportation. I especially enjoy reading the case studies and about what people do to resolve supply chain issues."

— Richard L. Hyland, dba Escalade Sports, Indian Industries, Inc. (2004)

"Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies is really very informative!"

— Ellen Collins, International Logistics Coordinator, Lincoln Electric Holdings (2003)

"Thank you so much for your excellent article in the August issue of Global Logistics. It was a rare piece that was encouraging on a human interest level as well as on the supply chain side. I have been involved in logistics for 30 years, and I could feel the pressure that 7Hills faced in undertaking such a huge project. So many articles in our industry's periodicals are dry and dull, but you have managed to produce something that reminds me of why I love this industry so much. Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies touches so many lives in a positive way. You made my day."

— Buster Lewis, President, Lewis Storage Company, Inc. (2004)

"We are a global business that increasingly attempts to develop and implement an integrated supply chain. GL&SCS focuses on these aspects, allowing us to stay on top of the latest integration strategies and solutions*. This certainly helps in our efforts to improve Union Carbide's supply-chain efficiency."*

— Stephen D. Tableman, Global Logistics Manager, Union Carbide Corp. (1999)

"When I started reading GL&SCS, I was a logistics manager at Boeing. I've since moved to Arrow Electronics, where I am a manager of supply-chain solutions. Essentially, I work with our customers to tailor a set of value-added material management services and e-commerce solutions into an integrated supply-chain solution. GL&SCS has had a lot to do with my making this career switch, by sparking my interest in this field*, as well as keeping me current on developments in supply-chain management."*

— Daniel F. Castello, Manager, Supply Chain Solutions, Arrow Electronics (2001)

"I scan the articles and advertisements in Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies. Usually, two or three articles give me a different perspective on an approach*, and I can apply it to what we're doing at Hewlett-Packard"*
— Gordon D. Gilstrap, Director of Logistics, Hewlett-Packard (2000)

"I enjoy reading GL&SCS from cover to cover since it touches on all aspects of supply-chain management."
— Nance Cirone, Worldwide Logistics Administrator, Polaroid Corporation (1998)

"I appreciate and enjoy the articles and shared information within the pages of Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies."
— D. Carl Greene, Jr., Supply Chain Manager, Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. (2003)

"Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies' articles are very much in line with my responsibilities here. We are a U.S. based company supplying product to Europe. The global nature is in line with my requirements – and you're doing a great job! The magazine reflects on various areas, and supplies the information."
— Richard V. Miller, Supply Chain Manager, Looza USA (2001)

"The articles in Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies are very well written. We always find something in there that can be applied to our business, and we enjoy reading each issue."
— Joe Stewart, Operations Manager, Camping World (2004)

"I like GL&SCS because of the variety of articles it presents pertaining to logistics. The publication keeps me up-to-date on important global issues."
— Kent Schlaefer, Logistics Project Manager, Quaker Oats Co. (1998)

"The articles in GL&SCS tend to be very detailed and informative with no fluff. Many of the other logistics industry magazines I read offer all fluff and no real information, but you have written some excellent articles."
— Andrew Gillespie, Manager of Logistics Planning, American Standard (1999)

"I love your magazine and I read it cover to cover. I like the logistical state of the union info, telling who's doing what and why. Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies has become my 'flying library'. I always have a few issues with me on every flight!"
— Tom Demuth, President, IDEA LLC (2003)

"There is a lot of literature published today on supply-chain management but GL&SCS stands out as one of the best resources for keeping up-to-date on supply-chain and logistics issues. I enjoy reviewing the case studies and relating them to what we are doing here at Welch Foods."
— Dee Biggs, Director of Logistics, Welch Foods Inc. (1999)

"I recently received the January issue of Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies and read with interest while on a flight from Chicago to San Jose. The periodic rough ride throughout my flight was no comparison to the 'bullwhip' effect I often see in company supply chains trying to catch up. From liability exposure to logistics analysis and glass pipeline dreams, many companies do not know how to effectively manage their supply chain. Your article, Best Practices Minimize the 'Luck Factor' in SC Planning, was a good read. Informative. We work with OEM executives worldwide helping them develop and execute their technology outsource initiatives. Your magazine is insightful and well presented. Thank you."
