"Our company, CT Global Inc., is a medium sized corporation. Several months ago, we reviewed the way we were moving goods from our manufacturing location in Shenzhen, China to world markets including North America, Europe and Australasia. We needed to find more efficient, more effective supply-chain solutions to meet and exceed customer expectations.

During the process of talking with various companies about their experiences and relationships with 3PL providers, we heard reference to your publication, Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies. Executive colleagues at several companies we spoke with referred to it as a valuable resource. Their recommendation was well placed.

In the process of completing our market study and deciding to place our 3PL business with UPS-SCS, we felt your magazine gave us independent, balanced and detailed information about the industry. It also provided professionally written articles that were researched thoroughly, containing substantial, relevant information on specific issues.

Our relationship with UPS-SCS continues to grow. With guidance from reading your publication, we feel better informed about what's going on in the industry and where it's headed. Thank you."
— Phil Cox, President, CT Global Inc.
